Preserving Fort Lee

Fort Lee Preservation Plan Virtual Community Meeting

Tuesday, June 2nd 6:30pm-8pm

Fort Lee Walking Tour

Wednesday, June 10th 5:30pm-7pm

Initially constructed in 1776 for the Revolutionary War, Fort Lee is a rare example of an earthwork fort still in its original star shape configuration. Today, the historic site sits within a wooded landscape and is suffering from erosion that threatens its earthen features. Join the City and its consulting team led by Kyle Zick Landscape Architects at a virtual community forum and an in-person tour to learn more about this historic site and to participate in ongoing efforts to plan for its future.
